

LUX EXPOSÉ

As summer reaches its peak, New Yorkers seek unique ways to unwind and enjoy the warm evenings. In response, luxury residential developments are stepping up, offering its residents exceptional amenities. Among these amenities, outdoor cinemas have become a standout feature, providing relaxation and entertainment right at home. These open-air venues allow residents to enjoy the warm evenings under the stars while watching the latest films or classic favorites. Outdoor cinemas create a communal yet exclusive environment where neighbors can socialize and unwind in a picturesque setting, often enhanced with luxurious amenities such as gourmet concessions, plush seating, and state-of-the-art audiovisual systems. This combination of luxury and leisure elevates the residential experience and adds a distinctive touch of elegance to urban living.

96+Broadway

Image Credit: Evan Joseph

Nestled between Riverside Park and Central Park, 96+Broadway on the Upper West Side offers a luxurious living experience with its extensive indoor and outdoor amenities. The highlight is its elegantly landscaped rooftop terrace, providing stunning views of the New York skyline and the Hudson River. The terrace features an exclusive outdoor cinema with cozy lounge seating and an outdoor kitchen, perfect for entertaining friends and family during sporting events or movie nights

<https://luxexpose.com/outdoor-cinemas-in-new-yorks-high-end-developments/>