A double vanity consists of two sinks placed side by side. In most cases, each sink boasts its own cabinet or drawers for storage and even may have a separate mirror or one long mirror may extend above the sinks. This home design feature takes up a significant portion of the bathroom, but couples are likely to enjoy all the benefits the double vanity brings. With two sinks, they can have access to the bathroom at the same time and enjoy all the space they need to take care of business without getting in each other's way.

Take a look at luxury residential buildings in NYC and Boston that feature homes with the most luxurious double vanities in the bathroom.
